

THE CLARKE INSTITUTE OF PSYCHIATRY CLASS JACKET, by Ryan Scott (Class of '77)

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 Name, address, floor number – for easy return if you are lost 2 Year of expected graduation (confirm with doctor) 3 Arm bar with designation “patient,” “staff” or “unsure” 4 Pocket with time-lock for “meds” release on pass 5 Circular pocket with rounds schedule enclosed 6 Picture of your doctor so you don’t forget what he or she looks like 7 Tape recordings of such answers as “Oh! I slept great,” “Oh! I’m eating great,” “Oh! My bowels | are fine” – to be used when too weak to reply yourself 8 Key chain made of paper clips, safety pins and rubber bands, and phony key to dummy lock on washroom 9 Matching mittens that can be strung thru sleeves (gloves were rejected as too complicated) 10 Rearview mirror (hopefully never to be used) 11 Proficiency bars, awarded for ceramics, cooking, asserting, supporting, psycho-drama, smiling and volleyball |
|---|---|

Other features too numerous to mention include

- (a) False beard to wear in coffee shop and pretend you're staff
- (b) Pocket to hold re-chargeable appliances like calculators, razors etc., so ECT participants can carry them to treatment three times a week, thus performing a valuable service and aiding the energy crisis
- (c) When fully zippered up, you will disappear, thus escaping the "O.T." at exercise time (and, of course, a bottle of Absorbine Jr., should the zipper stick)

- (d) Rubber lined pocket for culinary disasters you can't possibly eat – enables you to return an empty tray, to your nurse's satisfaction

WARNING: Jacket destruct feature: Should you overstay your pass, the jacket will destruct, leaving you nude at the Eaton Centre, thereby causing you to take the first streetcar back, hopefully to avoid being noticed as AWOL

COST : Unfortunately, as designed, $6,437.28. Under design is a T-shirt, which we hope will be available at a more reasonable cost.